A More Connected Workday for Tomball's Independent Businesses

For Tomball's independent businesses, SurfLocal Phone brings a dedicated business number, calls, texts, caller history and appointment requests into one private workspace. Explore how it can fit a busy workday.

By Marcus Bennett

For an independent business serving Tomball, a busy day might mean answering a new customer while keeping track of a follow-up and an appointment request. When those conversations land on personal devices or in separate places, it can be harder to keep the details together. SurfLocal Phone is designed to give business communications a dedicated home.

The service provides a business number for calling and texting, with live transfers, voicemail, caller profiles and history, sales leads, and appointment requests. The business reviews and manages appointment requests. Supported communications and recordings can also be saved in a private Communications Library, giving the team a place to refer back to details instead of relying only on memory.

SurfLocal describes additional tools for running business operations through SurfLocal Office, including customer and lead records, estimates, invoices, payroll-related records, documents, email and web tools. These are useful categories for a business looking to organize everyday work, though each business should review the available service details for its needs.

Customized SurfLocal AI can use approved business information to answer questions, handle intake, qualify leads and support configured workflows. More involved actions depend on the business's setup and connected systems, so the workflow needs to be configured for the tasks it should handle. SurfLocal offers a free, one-hour AI workflow assessment for businesses exploring where that might help.

The SurfLocal Phone signup page lists a $299 setup fee and $69 per month for Phone. For current details, visit https://www.surflocal.biz/start.php. To discuss a possible fit, call (806) 484-1156 or email contact@surflocal.biz.
